

CND was part of massive anti-austerity protest in London today, 20th June.

Organisers estimated that some 250,000 people took part in today's anti-austerity march in London. Salisbury CND was represented in a protest that combined many interests, all outraged at current government policies. Proposed spending on Trident replacement sticks out as unexplainable against the background of cuts in the NHS, Education and many other sectors.

Starting within the heart of the City of London's financial district, the protest wound its way via Trafalgar square to the Houses of Parliament. For those of you who couldn't make the march, here are some pictures to give you a flavour of the strength of feeling that was apparent on the streets of London today.
